A Retiring Committee was then appointed to single resolutions, who reported the following, which were unanimously adopted.
Whereas, The various questions which have long agitated the country were happily settled at the late session of Congress, by the passage of Compromises both National and American in their tendencies; and, whereas, it now becomes the lovers of order and the friends of the Constitution and those Compromises to rally around proper citadicates as standard-bearers to maintain them inviolate, and sistain the Union and the Laws—Therefore.
Recolved, That, in this view, the candidates presented this evening for your suffrages are tried men, selected for their peculiar fitness for the various offices designated.
Resolved, That the Whigs of the Timireenth Ward heartily respond to the nominality of the Timireenth Ward heartily respond to the nominality of the Timireenth Ward heartily respond to the nominality as a working Whig, justly entitle him to our consideration, and we therefore repeige ourselves that we will rally to a man to elect him.
Resolved, That in James Dewey, our candidate for Assembly, we have a firm and unwavering friend of the General and State Administrations, a stanch and consistent Whig, and one in whom we can repose the utmost confidence. His being a mechanic and Industrial interests will find in him as firm friend and supporter, and one therefore entitled to receive the undivided support of his fellow mechanics.

177 A Card.—TO THE WHIG ELECTORS OF THE VIH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT—Fellow-Citizes: I offer myself as a candidate for Congress for the VIII District, at the coming election.

I am a UNIONIST: I claim no credit for that, as I am not acquainted with any Disumonists; but as there is some nervousness on that subject just now. I think it best to mention it. I have never thought the Union in any danger, although I think its stability is not to be improved by threats on the one-side and undue concessions on the other.

Those who approve of Mr Brooks's vote giving ten milions to Texas, and his not voting on the Fugitive Slave bill, will not vote for me; I do not wisht. I am respectfully yours.

Davenport, S. B. Chittenden, Sias Davenport, John H. Prentice, W. W. Pinneo, Alex. Campbell, Dennis Perkins, Frederick Glover, B. H. Estes.

Ald. Corning was then introduced to the andience, and after reading a series of recolutions, made an address, setting forth in an able and cloquent manner the causes which have led to this movement. He was followed in short and pungent addresses by Ranson G. Wh.Liams, S. B. Chittenden, J. Churcu and Henry C. Bower, Esqs. which were frequently interrupted with loud and continued applaine. The speaking was of a many and dignified character, happen and cossity of uniting in a strong and independent effort of sup press all violations of Law and Order, and secure the hiessings which a just and faithful administration of our City Government will assuredly confer.

Near the close of the meeting, Hon. George Hall, was loudly called for in all directions. Being in the assembly, he was urged forward on the platform, and received with a perfect storm of applaine. After making a few brief and appropriate remarks, and thanking his fellow-citizens for the honor they had conferred upon him, he retired amid the shouls and embinisastic cheers of the assembled multitude, who will do all in their power to secure his election.

The Preamble and Resolutions presented and advocated by the different speakers were then adopted as follows, viz: Wherear, The character, growth and property of Brooklynare dependent upon an econ med, we and vigorous Moncipal Government, at d a faithful administration of the laws and ordinances and

The meeting then adjourned and quietly dispersed without any violations of the public peace, or the least disorder of any kind.

Remarkable unanimity prevailed throughout the proceedings. The large number of the older and more inducatial clitzens of Brooklyn, who signed the call for this meeting and who mighed in its deliberations, were of the highest standing, integrity and moral worthin the community, gives to this movement an importance and dignity of character which commands the respect, and ought to secure the hearty cooperation of every frend of humanity, and of law and order mour city.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

A LARGE REDUCTION on KINNE'S

and the man of business.

From Judge Edmonds.

Cirt Hais, New York, Oct. 16, 1850.

I have had very frequent occasion to use Kinne's Compendium since its publication first began, and have found it a very valuable assistant.

It is prepared with great judgment as well as with indistry, and will be found to be of great service not merely to the student and the judge, but also to the daily pactitioner in the Courts.

I have frequently examined its citation's, and have been highly guilfied with their accuracy, and I have been as much pleased with the precious and clearness with which it announces the principles of the cases referred to.

UST PUBLISHED.—The PRINCIPLES of CHEMISTRY, filuatrated by Simple Experiments, by D. JULIUS ADOLPH STOCKHARDT, Professor in the Royal Academy, of Agriculture at Tharand and Royal, and Inspector of Medicine in Saxony. Translated from the third German edition, by C. H. REIRCE, M. D. This work has already been introduced as a text book in Harvard College, and in many of the Academies and High Schools of Massachusetts.

Copies for examination will be furnished to teachers and School Committees, on application to the Publisher.

Extract from Professor Horszárds, introduction.
